History of the Village of Croton-on-Hudson

The Village of Croton-on-Hudson celebrated the Centennial of its incorporation on February 12, 1998 with a ceremony in the Frederick Blais Auditorium at Croton-Harmon High School. The voice of opera diva Lillian Nordica, a former resident, greeted the public as they streamed in to watch village trustees, in period costume, re-enact the first board meeting. The village's proud history extends back thousands of years.

Oyster middens and traces of a Native American fort that can still be seen on Croton Point bear witness to the home of the Kitchawanc tribe. It is believed the name Croton comes from one Native American chief, Kenoten, meaning wild wind.

The arrival of Henry Hudson on the Half Moon in 1609 heralded a dramatic change in the Native Americans' lifestyle. Soon after, Dutch settlers began to arrive establishing a trading post at Tellers' Point on Croton Point. Stephanus Van Cortlandt, who had made a fortune in the brewing business in New York City, began acquiring land and was granted a Royal Patent for the Manor of Cortlandt in 1697. Europeans settlers became traders, tenant farmers on the Van Cortlandt property or mill operators on the Croton River.

Although Croton was in neutral territory during the Revolutionary War, it was the scene of a significant event in September 1780. Moses Sherwood and John Peterson noticed the British sloop Vulture moored off Croton Point. It had dropped off the British spy Andre to meet the traitor Benedict Arnold and was waiting to take Andre and the plans of West Point back to the British in New York City. Sherwood and Peterson used a borrowed cannon from a fort in Verplanck to intimidate the Vulture into withdrawing to further downstream. Trapped in enemy territory, Andre was forced to take the land route back to New York City, but he was captured in Tarrytown before he could reach safety.

Richard Underhill built the first wine cellars in the country in which to store his famous Croton wine, while his brother manufactured bricks on the north side of Croton Point. The railroad arrived in the Village in 1849. At the end of the 19th century, construction of the New Croton Dam, urgently needed to provide more water for New York City, brought Italian, Irish and German immigrants to the area. Later they settled with their families in the village – ancestors of many current residents.

Real estate entrepreneur Clifford Harmon acquired much of the Van Cortlandt property in 1903 to develop a country retreat for artists, writers and musicians, among them Wagnerian soprano Lillian Nordica. The Playhouse Clifford Harmon built enjoyed more than a decade of success, with guests such as Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

Meanwhile, Mount Airy, the area north of the village, was transforming from a Quaker and New Thought community to a summer colony that attracted many Greenwich Village bohemians. Mabel Dodge held court; poet Edna St. Vincent Millay stayed long enough to be married; actress Gloria Swanson ruled over a glorious estate; and Isadora Duncan's sister, Elizabeth, taught dance. They were joined by members of the American Communist party including political cartoonist Boardman Robinson, the editor of The Masses, Max Eastman, and one of his staff members, John Reed. Reed was the subject of Warren Beatty's movie Reds.

In 1932, Mount Airy and Harmon were incorporated into the Village of Croton-on-Hudson, with the center of the community at the Depot, North Riverside Avenue near Bank Street. After World War II, the Village became more of a commuter suburb, with many residents commuting to workplaces in New York City and other employment centers outside the Village. Automobile traffic had become so congested by 1960 that a highway parallel to the Hudson River was constructed and most of the buildings in the Depot area were demolished – vastly changing the character of the Village.

Croton-on-Hudson continues to evolve as a suburban village with a thriving artistic community attracting residents from a variety of backgrounds with diverse interests. Copies of the Historical Society's History of Croton-on-Hudson, New York and Images of America: Croton-on-Hudson are available at the Village office.

Introduction to the Village Government

The Village of Croton-on-Hudson became an incorporated Village within the Town of Cortlandt in 1898 and adopted the Council-Manager form of government in 1971. In this form of government, the Village Manager administers the daily operations of the Village in accordance with the policies set by the Village Board.

The Village Board is comprised of the mayor and four trustees. The Board sets policy, approves the budget, adopts local laws and appoints the Village Manager to implement policies and supervise administration of local affairs. Each member serves two-year terms. The Village Justice presides over the Village Court and serves a two-year term. The Village holds annual local elections in March to elect Mayor, Trustees and Village Justice depending on which terms have expired. Residents may also vote on public referenda during these elections.

As chief administrative officer, the Village Manager carries out the Village Board's policies, manages the government's staff, prepares the budget and serves as an advisor to the Village Board. The local government benefits from the Manager's training and experience in administration of projects and programs, and citizens can count on the Manager to provide complete and objective information.

The Planning Board, the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Water Control Commission make land use decisions. The Planning Board considers site plans and subdivisions, the Zoning Board evaluates applications for variances and the Water Control Commission considers wetland activity permits. The Advising Boards and Committees make recommendations to the Board of Trustees and other decision making boards.

All individuals who are at least 18 years of age and have lived in the Village for 30 days as of the date of elections are eligible to vote in Village elections. Village elections are held the third Tuesday of March. The Village Clerk is responsible for the mechanics of the election. A winning candidate is determined by a simple majority of votes. Those residents who are interested in serving as election inspectors should contact the Village Clerk's Office. The Village Office can provide contact information regarding active political parties in the Village.

The Village Code should be consulted for more details. The Village Code is available in the Croton-on-Hudson Village Office and on-line on the Village website at www.crotononhudson-ny.gov.

Accumulation of Snow

In order to facilitate efficient plowing of streets, residents must remove vehicles from the street when two or more inches of snow have accumulated. Within 24-hours after a snow fall, residents must clear their sidewalks of ice and snow.

Bicycling

Bicycling on the sidewalks in the Village is prohibited to ensure the well-being and safety of pedestrians. Helmets must be worn by all children under the age of 14. Please be sure that your children are aware of these regulations.

Building Permits

Except for normal maintenance that is not structural in nature, all construction requires a building permit. This includes exterior and interior alterations, retaining walls over four feet high, swimming pools, sheds and decks. Permits are issued only after approval of applications by the Village Engineer. Failure to obtain a permit is a violation of the Village Code. Permit applications are available at the Engineer's Office or on-line on the Village Website. A Certificate of Occupancy must be obtained for each Building Permit that is approved.

Burglar/Fire Alarms

All home and business burglar/fire alarm systems must meet the Village's requirements prior to installation. Permits for installation are mandatory. In addition, a yearly registration fee is required for active alarms. Only alarm installation companies licensed by the County may conduct business within Croton-on-Hudson. Alarm permits can only be issued to property owners. Tenants must obtain written permission from property owner before a permit can be issued. Applications for alarm permits are available in the Village Office or online on the Village web-site.

Dog Leash and Licensing Law

Pets are welcome. However, it is unlawful for a dog to be at large in the Village. Dogs must be restrained by a leash or chain. Dogs are prohibited at all times in any public park, playground or on school property. The Village has a pooper-scooper law that requires owners to clean up all dog feces and dispose of them in an air tight container. All dogs must be licensed by the Village in accordance with the N.Y.S. Agricultural and Marketing Law; license applications are available at the Village Office. Any person who observes a dog in violation of the code may call the Dog Control Officer at 271-3775, or, after business hours, the Croton Police Department on the non-emergency line.

Fences

The height and location of fences are regulated by the Village. Fences six feet high or less, measured from grade, are permitted anywhere on the property providing that they will not obstruct the view of traffic. However, fences over six feet high may require a building permit. The Village Engineer's Office should be contacted for more information and details.

Noise

It is unlawful for any person to make, continue, or cause to be made or continued, any loud or unusual noise that annoys, disturbs, injures or endangers the comfort, repose, peace, or safety of others. Construction work, including but not limited to building, repairing, blasting, grading, leveling and excavating, is prohibited between the hours of 8:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m. Sunday through Saturday and between the hours of 8:00 p.m. Saturday and 10:00 a.m. Sunday. Right-of-Ways

Residents may not plant trees or shrubs nor erect walls or fences on Village right-of-ways without a permit and approval from the Village Engineer.

Signs

No signs of any type may be attached or fastened in any way to trees, shrubs, or poles on any street, park, or other Village property. Signs on private property are regulated by the Zoning Laws and in many cases require a permit. Certain types of temporary signs are exempt. Questions regarding signage should be directed to the Village Engineer.

Speed Limit

No person may operate a vehicle on any street or highway within the Village at a rate in excess of 30 miles per hour, unless otherwise posted, or in excess of 15 miles per hour in areas designated as school zones.

A building permit is required for the construction of in-ground and above-ground swimming pools. All swimming pools, including existing swimming pools, must be protected with a four foot high fence with self-closing and self-latching gates. Contact the Village Engineer for more information.

Tree Law

The Village requires a permit for the removal of certain trees. Removal of any tree 8 inches or more in diameter requires a permit on parcels of land capable of being subdivided, parcels of land without a residential structure, or property that would require a site plan. A tree removal permit is also required for: trees located on a slope greater than 25%; threatened or endangered species as defined by the N.Y.S. Department of Environmental Conservation; and landmark Village trees. Questions regarding tree removal and obtaining a tree removal permit should be directed to the Village Engineer's Office.

Visual Obstructions

Residents must trim or cut back trees and shrubs that obstruct visibility on roadways, driveways, or at intersections. Trees, shrubs, fences, walls and structures more than 30 inches above the curb level are prohibited on street corners and in the clear area as defined in the Village Code. Trees are allowed in the clear area only if they are trimmed to permit visibility. See the Village Code or contact the Village Engineer for more details.

Wood Burning Stoves and Fireplaces

All residents wishing to install a wood burning stove or a fireplace in their home must obtain a Building Permit prior to installation. Each installation is inspected by the Engineering Department. A certificate of conformity is issued for all properly completed installations.

The Village Code is available on the Village Web-site for free and easy consultation. The Village website is: www.crotononhudson-ny.gov

Information for Village Residents

Fall Leaf Collection

The Village provides two means of fall leaf collection. Leaves can be placed in biodegradable paper bags or in piles at the edge of the street to be vacuumed up.

The DPW collects leaves placed in biodegradable paper bags once a week during November, December, and, if necessary, January. The DPW vacuums loose leaves piled at the edge of the street. DPW attempts to reach every street by the end of January. There is no specific schedule for vacuuming of the leaves. Bagging leaves will ensure timely removal by the DPW.

Leaves vacuumed or collected in biodegradable bags are composted. Leaves placed in plastic bags will not be collected.

GIS System

GIS stands for Geographic Information System. The Village GIS system has been developed over the last nine years and is used by the Village to view and analyze information in a graphical format. Our current system is used in the management of infrastructure and environmental resources and to answer many inquiries regarding these assets. The information in the GIS system is organized into layers. Each layer contains a particular type of information, for example utilities or environmental, which can be displayed and analyzed.

By 2005, a subset of the GIS information will be accessible through a link on our web-site. This information will be limited to parcel, building foot print, street, environmental features and other non-security related information. Contact the Village Engineer for more information.

Parking at the Croton-Harmon Train Station:

Registration forms for monthly and weekend/holiday permits are available at the Municipal Building or on the Village website. A resident monthly parking permit is $40.00 (2004) per month. The permits are sold quarterly (every three months). Weekend/holiday permits are free for Village residents. These permits allow residents to park at the train station on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays at no cost. Residents must provide proof of village residency and current copies of the car registration in order to obtain permits.

Resident Identification Card:

Between May and September an ID is required for entrance to Senasqua Park. The Skate Park, Hudson National Golf Course and Silver Lake require residents to have this card in order to receive the resident rates. Residents should obtain a photo identification card from the Village Recreation Department. A resume should be submitted to the appropriate department in the beginning of January each year for the upcoming summer.

Village Water:

Approximately 90% of the Village's population is supplied by municipal hookup; the remainder is supplied by individual wells. The water comes from an aquifer beneath the Croton River, not from the New York City reservoir supply. The Village maintains its own supply and distribution system consisting of three well pumps at the well fields, four storage tanks located throughout the Village, and a network of mains and pipes. The only treatment consists of chlorine added at the well field for disinfection; no fluoride is added to the Village's water supply. A water quality report is prepared each year and includes detailed information on water quality. Billing for water is on a six month cycle.
